THE FIGARO DUEL AT PARIS. Parts, Monday, May 17, 6 P. M .-- A most unpleasant effect has been produced here by a duel fought some days ago between a writer in the Figuro (the Legitimist Charivari) and two subalterns of the army. The quarrel originated in a paragraph published in the Figaro, and signed "Nemo," in which some jokes, more suo, were cut at the expense of the sub-lieutenants of the army. The youthful Bayards took fire, and numerous letters were addressed to "Nemo" provoking him to justify his words by his acts. "Nemo" soon threw off the mask which concealed his features; he avowed himself as H. do Certificates of Package 26 Wholes Pene, and informed one his challengers that he was completely at his disposal whenever he should be called upon to give satisfaction. The challenger was an officer of the 9th Chasseurs, named Courteil, and the encounter took place in the neighborhood of Paris, in presence of several witnesses. In a short time the officer was wounded in the arm by the civilian and the affair terminated.

The former assured his opponent that he had not the slightest animosity against him, and they shook hands now that all was over. To the surprise of the civilian, another subaltern, named Hyene, who was one of the seconds, stepped forth, and said that the affair could not end thus, that the pleasantry of the Figare had effended the whole body of the aub-lientenants of the French army, and that he, as one, demanded satisfaction on the spot. M. de Pene declared that he did not consider himself bound to renew the contest; he had already exposed his life by giving satisfaction for the presumed offence, and if he consented to expose himself to the June 26th, 1858. sword of another adversary for the same cause he might be called upon to fight the whole army. Sub-Licutenant Hyene was not satisfied; he answered angrily; the rejoinder was equally warm; a discussion arose; hard words were exchanged, according to some a blow was struck by the officer-according to othere be flung a glove in the face of De Pene, while on the other hand others affirm that neither the one nor the other occurred. The that was that a second duel ensued, and Certificates of packag's 26 whole tickets $200 00 M. de Pene, who had already escaped one adversary, was in a few minutes run through the body by a second, and now lies in a desperate state in a public house near the bridge

The principal editor of the Figaro, named Vallemalsem, demanded an audience of the immediately after it is over, to all who order from me. Address, P. J. BUCKEY, Agent, the Emperor's private secretary to the Minister of Justice. The officer has been ordered under arrest by the Minister of War, and a report has been presented to this functionary by the Ministerial department. It is thought that the result will be the adoption recent affair following so close on that of cost of Tickets-all such are swindles. Lieut. de Mercy, who lies under sentence of death for murder. The effect produced in Paris by the duel is most painful. It is the State Officer, and can be relied on. If you subject of conversation in every society, and, draw a Prize, you will get your money. though I do not well see how the Government can be made responsible for these fatal | concerns. Beware of them. encounters, yet it is undeniable, that the military element which so largely enters into its composition, and which has gained for. To be drawn in Baltimore City, June 19th, 1858. it so much unpopularity, tends to excite discontent among the population in an unusual degree: you may judge of this by the fact that this duel is regarded as an important and even ominous event, and it is this only which induces me to notice it .- Corr. of London Times.

TECHNICAL WORDS.

English price-currents often speak of the price of wheat per quarter-to reduce this to berrels, multiply the price by seven, and divide by twelve, and it will give the price, at the same rate, by the barrel. Thus:--if wheat is quoted at 56s. a quarter, multiply 56 by 7, and divide by 12, and it gives the price, 32s. 8d. a barrel.—Ohio Farmer.

CATCHING SHEEP-KILLING DOGS-Make a pen of fence rails, begining with four so as to have it square, and as you build is draw in each rail as you would the sticks of partridge trap, until your pen is of sufficient leight, say five feet. In this way you will construct a trap which, when finished, will permit a dog to enter at the top with pleasure but out of which he will find it difficult to escape should be have the agility of a antelope. All that you have to do to catch the dog that has killed your sheep is to construct the trap where a dead sheep is left. As soon se possible after an attack has been made on of eases the rogue and murderer will return the succeeding night, or perhaps the next, and you will have the gratification next morning of finding him securely imprisoned.
